

Electrical Firm Strike Cost $250 Million

Union President Blames Company for Huge Losses

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—President James B. Carey of the International Union of Electrical Workers told mayors of 19 cities today the 86-day strike against Westinghouse Electric Corp. has cost the company about 250 million dollars.

He blamed the loss on Westinghouse President G. W. A. Price. The mayors conferred here with Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence on ways of ending the violence-marked walkout. The unusual meeting came as company and union leaders prepared for a "showdown" negotiating session in Philadelphia tomorrow.

The meeting of the mayors in whose cities strike-bound Westinghouse plants are located was arranged by Columbus, Ohio, Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner. His city has been the scene of some of the most violent picket-line outbreaks in the bitter dispute.

At Newark, N. J., striking IUE workers continued to picket a strikebound Westinghouse plant today. A county judge yesterday denied an injunction against mass picketing sought by the company and ordered continued in force an agreement between the company and the union limiting the number of pickets.

Carey blasted Price for the "economic loss to families and communities" affected by the strike.

"We know the cost of the walkout to the corporation — the loss of about 250 million dollars of production," Carey said.

"Because we know these facts... we have made every effort, short of unconditional surrender, in order to get the strike settled."

"Yet all the proposals which we have accepted have run into the obstinate refusal of one man — G. W. A. Price," he declared.

Carey said the company's policy was "no negotiations, no arbitration and the public be damned."

NAT KING COLE has been playing to standing room only audiences in the Starlite Room of Irwin Schuman's Chi Chi, and indications are that capacity crowds will continue through the week. The crowds have been reluctant to let him leave the stage, calling him back time and time again for encores. The "King" above is relaxing a minute during rehearsals.

Super Markets to Boom in Nation, Convention Told

Super markets in the United States will enjoy a 25 per cent increase in sales by 1960 and volume will increase to 45 per cent by 1965.

This rosy picture was painted by Arno Johnson, vice president and research director for J. Walter Thompson, of New York City, who made the opening address before 750 members of the Super Market Institute of America Monday at El Mirador Hotel where the convention is now in session. It will come to a close tomorrow evening.

Johnson based his prediction on President Eisenhower's declaration in his State of the Union address that production in this country would reach a peak of 500 billion dollars this year.

"THIS DOES NOT mean that the retail price of food will go higher," said Johnson. "It means that families in this country will be moving into a higher economic bracket and will demand better food, containing greater amounts of health giving value in food and will demand more services from super markets."

Curt Kornblau, director of research for the super market institute said that food sales in the United States increased eight per cent during the past 12 months and the retail price of these foods decreased two per cent.

It was learned that the 750 delegates present represent 5000 supermarkets in the United States and Alaska. Kornblau also said that these super markets sold eight and one-half billion dollars in food last year and that this volume amounted to 20 per cent of the food consumed by the American people.

JAMES COOKE, president of Penn Fruit Company, told the assembled delegates that super markets enjoyed an advantage over other industries because these markets handle perishable foods and use imagination in the display of these perishables. On the other hand, other industries have everything they offer for sale pre-packed or pre-formed.

"This advantage in imagination on the part of super market owners in the display of merchandise may disappear from the scene with the coming years, and it will be necessary for super markets to step into the non-food line in order to operate at the same profit range," Cooke said. "The imagination factor will be taken out of the display in perishables because most foods will be delivered pre-packaged and indefinitely preserved by the use of atomic methods in indefinite preservation of perishables."

The meeting here is composed entirely of owners and managers and is called the mid-year meeting. The annual meeting takes place in Cleveland during the Summer. Under discussion at this mid-year meeting among top management are efficiency problems, greater services to the buying public; use of space in markets, motivation buying, and the lowering of food costs to the consumer.

General Motors maintains 130 medical departments in its plants in the United States and Canada and employs 160 industrial physicians and 750 nurses.

Calvin Elbridge Woodside, 87, 1627 San Lucas, died at 10:35 a.m. Monday, at Desert Hospital.

He was a member of the Los Angeles and Riverside County Bar Associations.

A native of Maine, he was a resident of Palm Springs for five years, and of California for 55 years.

Survivors include his widow, Ethel Woodside; two daughters, Mrs. Stuart Barker of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. Karl Dicksen of Los Angeles; and one sister, Mrs. Mabel DeMack, Beverly, Massachusetts.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday, at Wicela and Son Chapel, with Dr. James H. Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church, officiating. Interment will follow in Palm Springs cemetery.

Missile Good for 1500 Miles Planned by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said today the Army is putting "everything we've got" into development of a ballistic missile that will rocket 1,500 miles. Taylor, Army chief of staff, said there is "no limit" to the type of targets the missile could be aimed against.

He made the statement in summarizing 1956 Army goals at the first Pentagon news conference he has held since becoming Army chief last Summer.

Taylor said the Army "in partnership with the Navy" is using its giant 60-foot Redstone rocket as a pattern for developing a "medium range," 1500-mile missile.

He said the Army urgently needs a wide span of missiles with "tremendous destructive firepower." These will enable American forces to attack "high into the enemy air space and deep into the vital sources of strength of our enemy ground forces," he said.

Military men call ballistic missiles "the ultimate weapon." Equipped with atomic or hydrogen bomb warheads, they could cover huge distances at supersonic speeds. There is at present no known defense against such missiles.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson recently ordered a stepped-up effort to ballistic missiles, including one of "intercontinental" range. Russia is also believed to be making progress on them.

dison was able to get hand prints left by the burglars when they crawled behind the counters of the Palm Springs and Thrifty stores. The lights were burning in both stores, and they apparently crawled to keep from being seen from Palm Canyon Drive.

There were no narcotics thefts. An interesting feature of the two burglaries is that extreme exertion was used to get into Palm Springs Drug's liquor department, but no bottles of liquor were taken from Thrifty, where they were accessible on the shelf. Footprints show that the burglars at Thrifty walked by the liquor counter without reaching out to take anything.

OFFICER RICHARD Mullins, checking the California Electric company's south sub-station lot near Calle Amigos and Ramon Road, said a crowbar was used to break a lock and open gates allowing a car or truck to drive in and be loaded with about 800 pounds of copper wire valued at 50 cents a pound. He said a 300 pound reel and 500 pounds of coils were taken from the ground and trucks in the storage yard. He said he could not tell how many persons participated in the theft.

Two men, convicted of stealing wire from that yard, are presently awaiting sentencing by Superior court pending probation department recommendation. There have been three previous thefts of wire from that location within the last three months.

Ford Stock No Quick Way for Profits, Warning

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Ford warned the public that Ford stock would provide no quick sure way to handsome profits.

"We at Ford are not miracle men but business men," he said in the warning addressed to 1000 securities dealers who will offer the stock to the general public next week.

He cautioned that some people are indulging in wishful thinking about their chances for "fast and fabulous financial gain."

Ford's statement was considered by Wall Street experts to be partially responsible for the barrage of selling on the stock market late yesterday which drove prices to their lowest levels in nearly two months.

Ford told the security dealers he felt it was his duty to issue the caution about the 10,200,000 shares of Ford stock which will go on sale at an estimated price of from $60 to $75 per share.

"After considering the mail I have received, reading press accounts and listening to the opinions of informed persons, I am concerned about the evidence in some areas of a naive belief in industrial miracles," Ford said.

He said he did not expect the automobile business to be as good in 1956 as it was in 1955.

"It is my personal belief that we will have a good year in 1956 but I don't know for sure and I don't think any of my colleagues do either," he said.

GOP Dinner Expected to Gross $1.6 Million Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The Republican party, in firing its 1956 fund-raising guns, is expected to set an all-time record here with a $100-a-plate dinner that may gross almost $1,600,000.

Similar political gatherings — known as "Salute to Eisenhower Dinners" — will be staged simultaneously by the GOP on January 20 in 63 cities. But the gathering of an expected 16,000 Ike admirers in Madison Square Garden here will be the granddaddy of them all.

The Garden rally is being staged by the Republican state committees of New York and New Jersey.

Douglas M. Black, business and professional division chairman of the rally, said it will be "the largest political dinner in history."

For his $100, the Garden diner will get a box supper with a single lobster as the main course, tossed green salad, stuffed celery, seedless grapes, cheese cake and glass of orange juice. The specially designed box opens into a tray so each diner can juggle it easily in the Garden's theater-type seats.

In addition, the Ike fans here will be entertained with an ice show, singing by six choral groups of 1,000 voices and enough political oratory to last them for months.

Arthur Elrod Has Brought 'Life' to Desert Designing

There's a young man in town—handsome and most eligible bachelor—who can figuratively see the color of your eyes, the personality that is you and blend these into a harmonious environment that is pleasing and in the most, definitely flattering.

All of this, of course, is accomplished in one's home with a freshness in desert living that is both temporary and really vitalizing, according to many who have witnessed his ideas become practical, ring abodes.

This 31-year-old native of the Deep South, Arthur Elrod, owner of Elrod Ltd., 886 N. Palm Canyon drive, started with practically nothing in this town two years ago. At to illustrate the terrific impact he has made upon home owners in the Palm Springs resort area, in his past year his gross sales in furniture and services have amounted to more than $300,000.

IN ORDER to do that volume of business, the freshness, the newness of interior decor certainly must have impressed one home owner after another, and as his records indicate he is a busy young man with a staff of eight assisting him, plus seven more in his custom drapery department.

Asked for a possible explanation, account for his success here, Elrod had the following to say: "I felt that one needed a contrast in the interior of their homes with the prevailing colors that greet one all about on the desert. One is outside, as one looks out of a window there is the constant brown, beige, tan and neutral colors of the desert. These colors have prevailed here for a long time.

"MY BASIC COLOR is white because it has no color. I then use color in contrast to reflect the personality and individual desires of the home owner and I keep the woman of the house constantly in mind. Wherever she may be in her home, colors must flatter and reflect her personality. She must stand out as a figure under a stage spotlight."

Elrod has furnished and decorated the homes of many desert dwellers since coming to Palm Springs. Among them were Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett, Mary Hurrell, Ed Robbin, M. O. Anderson, Paul Aust, David Rose, Hoagy Carmichael and many other famous personalities.

"I DO ATTRIBUTE my business to a considerable extent in becoming acquainted in this area to my advertisement in The Desert Sun. Once a task was accomplished for a client, friends of his or hers, have asked me to see what I could do about their homes," Elrod said.

Elrod worked for a local concern at one time and then went to San Francisco where he was employed for three years with Sloan's.

He has been coming to the desert here for ten years but his last home was in Atlanta, Georgia. He was born in Anderson, South Carolina, where his mother, Mrs. Jessie Elrod, still resides.

He majored in textile design in Clemson College, South Carolina. Later he was to take a major course in interior design at the Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles. Since then he has been putting his college theories into practice but not so realistically until he went into business for himself.

HIS ORGANIZATION handles three lines of furniture. The Baker products which lean toward the Oriental; Widdicomb with simple flowing and modern lines, and Dunbar with severe lines.

"My entire theory of interior decorating can be summed up this way," Elrod said in closing: "To avoid the vastness of a grand central station and convert this space into individualism, intimacy, closeness and warmth."

Private Enterprise Termed Strength of United States

Americans have become so accustomed to industrial miracles that they are in danger of forgetting what makes them possible, Harlan L. P. Wendell, Pacific District manager of the Du Pont Company's Extension Division, told the Palm Springs Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting at Saddle and Sirloin today.

"The danger today," Wendell said, "is that, in taking for granted the progress we have made, we lose touch with the sources of our national strength and prosperity. If ever we, as a nation, come to believe that our position in the world today is simply an accident of time, climate and national resources, the decline of America will be well advanced. The danger is that we shall forget that progress must be continuously created, and will forget the means by which America does continuously create it."

WENDELL POINTED out that to maintain and improve the standard of living of a rapidly growing population requires that the productive capacity of the individual be increased, and that this becomes increasingly difficult as the operation of our American economic system is interfered with.

"The productivity of American industry has been multiplied by the magnificent use of technology," he told Kiwanians. "Technology is simply the system, more highly developed in this country than any other, by which business management, supported by the invested money of many people, organizes industrial teams of men and women with skills in the sciences, in plant design and construction, in production, in sales, and human relations.

"WORKING TOGETHER they translate ideas generated in research laboratories into new products or improved manufacturing methods. By this means they create new industries, new jobs, new opportunity for existing businesses, new wealth for everyone."

This process, he said, could be weakened by anything that lessened the incentive of any members of the team. Unwise policies of taxation could do it by confiscating the rewards of thrift and enterprise. Measures that restrict industrial growth in the name of doctrinaire concepts could do it, too. Undue regulation governing working men and women could do it. "It is easy to undermine incentive," he said. "It also may be fatal."

"Those of us who remember that progress must be created know well that the ultimate creators are those who provide the tools of production and those who improve them day by day. Anything that discourages them, or weakens their motivation, weakens America and is bad for all."

Desert Circus to Name Officers

Palm Springs Desert Circus Association will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at 8 p.m., Thursday, at the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn, President Adrian Rosen announced.

All members of the association are urged to attend the meeting, at which Ray Corliss and Jimmy Cooper will be named co-chairmen of this year's circus.

Dates for the 1956 event are April 19 to 22.

FAITHFUL SERVANT — Homer L. Varner, whose death is mourned by thousands of his friends and associates in Riverside county, was one of the most faithful officials this county has had in recent years. Despite the loss of a leg and the warning of his physician following a heart attack a year ago, Homer Varner stuck religiously to the strenuous task of representing the far-flung Fourth District. In addition to the regular Board of Supervisors meetings he attended meetings of various groups throughout his district almost every week.

The task of representing this largest and fastest growing section of Riverside county with its many problems that are often not understood by residents and representatives of the other four districts is a very difficult one. It takes courage and leadership to obtain recognition and get results in a minority situation like that which our Supervisor faces. Homer Varner had the respect of his associates and the confidence of his constituents. His warmth and understanding made him universally liked and he will long be remembered for his devotion to duty.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?—Reports from many cities and towns across the nation show that the Community Chest campaigns of 1955-56 have met with the most generous response in several years. Quotas in many communities have been over-subscribed. Almost all have reached their goals without difficulty. The Community Chest plan has been adopted by practically every city, town and hamlet in the country as the most efficient method of obtaining voluntary support for the LOCAL welfare, health and charitable agencies. Hundreds of thousands of such agencies as the Boy and Girl Scout organizations, Health, Welfare and Youth Centers are financed entirely through their local Chest campaigns.

What's the matter in Palm Springs? The current Chest campaign is lagging badly. Less than one-third of the needed $50,000 had been subscribed up to last Saturday. In a community which is so prosperous and generous — it's hard to believe. Something must be wrong. It doesn't seem possible that villagers do not recognize the need for these youth, health, and welfare organizations. Our residents demonstrate their generosity time and time again. Only recently they responded wholeheartedly to the appeal for relief of the flood victims in the northern part of the state. National campaigns such as the Red Cross and March of Dimes are always generously supported.

Perhaps one reason that the local Chest appeal has not been meeting with a better response is because the agencies dependent upon it do not seem to play an important role in a resort community like this. Other activities are given more emphasis. But the need here is just as great — the wisdom of providing organized activities for our youth, for example, is just as important as anywhere else in the country. In some ways it is MORE important because we put more emphasis on adult activities and facilities that are not suitable or available to our young people.

Another reason why the Palm Springs Community Chest finds it difficult to obtain sufficient donations to provide the minimum needs of these agencies is because there are so many other appeals — and all come in a few months. One of the Palm Springs merchants told me the other day: "It seems I am being asked to donate to some cause almost every day." They do come fast and furious. Almost all seem to be worthy causes.

Then too, while the Community Chest asks for only one donation it is really six-in-one. Many people do not realize this; they think of the Chest as just another single donation.

VILLAGERS MUST REALIZE THAT THESE SIX AGENCIES ARE DEPENDENT ENTIRELY ON THE COMMUNITY CHEST FOR OPERATING FUNDS. IN THIS RESPECT THEY MUST BE DISTINGUISHED FROM NATION-WIDE APPEALS. ABOVE ALL — WE MUST PROVIDE THESE FACILITIES AND SERVICES FOR OUR OWN. CERTAINLY, NO ONE ELSE WILL!

Every resident of Palm Springs should contribute something to the LOCAL Community Chest. It is a voluntary obligation. They should not depend on an "advance gifts" letter or have to be asked by another resident. Everyone can afford to give something — their heart will tell them how much.

IF YOU HAVEN'T YET MADE YOUR CONTRIBUTION TO THE CHEST, SIT DOWN AND MAKE OUT YOUR CHECK RIGHT NOW — OR DROP BY THE COMMUNITY CHEST OFFICE AT 101 SOUTH PALM CANYON DRIVE AND MAKE A CASH CONTRIBUTION. YOU'LL FEEL BETTER RIGHT AWAY.

Palm Springs simply must not neglect the vital agencies that make up its Community Chest. It is every individual's responsibility. We need the assistance of Winter residents as well. Even though they make their principal donation to a Chest in their home town, they should feel the responsibility of making some contribution here.

It's up to YOU... every single one of you!

Attention, Hinsdale!!
(Please promptness employ)
And quick without fail,
Just send me a Boy!

The above is prompted by this photo contest being sponsored by The Desert Sun. And also by envy. First off, to break the news of the contest, we have a picture of Kate Rashall, daughter of Bill Rashall, promotion manager, into whose lap the publicity of the contest sits. Next comes a picture of Lee Weigel, one-sixth of the Fred Weigel family, Weigel, pere, being The Sun photographer, smuggled that one in. That leaves out a lot of us. Don Klotzbuecher is disqualified—he isn't even married. Phil Gallishaw is handicapped. He just got married. And me—I have no offspring in the immediate vicinity. But back in Hinsdale, Illinois, I have four grandsons, any one of whom would make a good subject for a photo contest plug picture. Therefore the SOS to Hinsdale as set forth above. I want to get into the act, too.

JIMMY COOPER, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, tells me that another of my periodic lamentations will soon be stilled. He says that he has been, and is now, working on a plan to get Palm Springs into the Rose tournament parade. For some years this column has been bemoaning the fact that Palm Springs was missing a great publicity opportunity by not having a float in that parade. This year (I almost said last year!) 1,700,000 people watched the parade in person and untold millions via TV. That's a lot of people to learn about the various communities in Southern California. They would learn about Palm Springs, too, if we had a float in that great colorful parade. Jimmy Cooper says that if he can work it, somehow, Palm Springs will be represented in the 1957 Rose Tournament parade. Then what will I have to write about come January 2, 1957? If still able to find the keyboard of this venerable old Woodstock.

THIS WILL BE GOOD NEWS to those men who love the holidays except for one thing—they are expected to carve the turkey, allotting requested portions to the proper plates and wishing that turkeys were quadrupeds. A poultry expert sounded off last week and said that soon turkeys will be sold pre-sliced and probably out of vending machines. That's going to make for speed and efficiency. The expert said that by 1966 electronic heating will enable housewives to buy a sliced turkey at 11 a.m., frozen stiff (the turkey, not the housewife) and by noon it will be ready to serve. The only thing wrong I can see with that picture is that that delicious pre-dinner fragrance will be gone from the kitchen.

TAKING THE BAD along with the good, this is going to be bad news for the nation's younger television crowd. But, according to press dispatches, NBC-TV is going to strip the cowboy hero of his right to kill the villain. Under a new code being formulated, the swagging hero is going to have to subdue the low-down critter in a matter of seconds. Those two-minute fisticuffs wherein each one knocks down the other several times, are out... And a Legionnaire tells me this quip he read the other day: "Think an old soldier just fades away? Ask any of them who have tried to get into their old uniforms recently."

Nutrition of Older People

Nutrition of the aged, or geriatric nutrition, has been a matter of intense research in the past several years. With the increased longevity, there has been a marked increase in the number of people living into sixty and seventy year age groups.

Because of long established faulty dietary habits and special circumstances in old age, nutritional disturbances frequently appear in the elderly. This is manifested by obesity or overweight, chronic malnutrition, and vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

As an aid in promoting good health and protecting against these difficulties, the diet of such elderly people should be carefully individualized and adequately supplemented with vitamins and minerals. With increasing age there is a gradual lowering of the basal metabolic rate due to the thyroid gland curtailing its function, and a resulting diminution in the muscular activities and vigor of these individuals.

ENERGY REQUIREMENTS are therefore lessened by this decreased physical activity. The average male who previously required 2500 to 3000 calories per day, on quiet living requires less than 2000 calories per day, and the average woman under 1500. In such individuals a persistence of their previous food intake only results in obesity — until the seventh decade arrives, when due to a loss of water intake and a water loss by the tissues, a weight reduction is usually seen to occur.

It is generally agreed that during and after middle age, overweight is a serious habit, associated with a higher mortality rate. Very few obese elderly people live to survive into and beyond the seventy-year mark.

By controlling the food intake of such individuals, especially in reducing the carbohydrate and fat intake, a weight loss of about one pound a week can be made to occur until the proper weight in their age group is arrived at. This also requires the elimination of snacks between meals, and the curtailment or avoidance of alcoholic beverages.

IN SOME PATIENTS who do not lose weight in spite of a rigid adherence to a limited diet, the failure may be due to water retention because of excessive amounts of salt or sodium bicarbonate which some people take in their food, or to overcome an acid stomach. Others may require the aid of an appetite depressing drug to reduce.

During any weight reduction program, it is very important to supplement the diet with vitamin and mineral substances.

At the other extreme are those elderly individuals who because of a poor economic status, or their social condition, are appreciably underweight and may be in a state of chronic malnutrition. In such patients the financial means do not allow the purchase of a sufficient variety and amount of necessary foodstuffs, particularly meats and citrus fruits.

ELDERLY PEOPLE living alone and obliged to prepare their own meals and do their own cooking, tend to rely mainly on packaged or easily prepared foods, usually in the form of carbohydrates or sugars. Also, because of insufficient or poorly fitting dentures interfering with mastication, adequate meat intake may be neglected in the favor of more easily chewed starchy foods.

The common dislike of milk also deprives the elderly person of a valuable source of protein and an important source of calcium. The anxieties and depressive states lead to a loss of appetite which may result in severe malnutrition. Food intake may also be limited because of distressing stomach symptoms which may be related to emotional factors such as loneliness, insecurity and a feeling of helplessness.

This will be continued in our next article.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is weighing a fateful nuclear decision.

It is whether to recommend to Congress that the Atomic Energy Act be amended to permit arming our NATO allies with atomic warheads.

They already have been tentatively promised the weapons for such warheads.

These armaments include F-86, F-100 and other latest type fighter-bombers, capable of carrying nuclear munitions, atomic field guns, and "Honest John" guided missiles.

This tentative commitment was made by Secretary Dulles at the NATO foreign ministers conference in Paris last month. He was accompanied by Defense Secretary Wilson, Treasury Secretary Humphrey, and Admiral Radford, head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The Atomic Energy Act of 1954 flatly prohibits giving foreign countries either atomic warheads or information concerning their production. Removal of this legal barrier would require considerable revision of this law by Congress. That's what the President and his military, diplomatic and atomic advisers are deliberating on the basis of what transpired at the hush-hush NATO parley.

This was the vigorous insistence of our allies that they be equipped with atomic arms—both the weapons and warheads (shells, bombs, etc.) for them.

In pressing this demand, the allied leaders stressed three points: (1) In the past, U. S. supremacy in nuclear armament made it unnecessary for the other NATO powers to have them, as all were assured of adequate protection against aggression. (2) But Russia's development of the hydrogen bomb has "neutralized" American supremacy, and thus largely outmoded the conventional military forces and equipment of the allies. (3) Therefore, it has become imperative that they be provided with atomic arms for early training in their use.

Secretaries Dulles and Wilson agreed on the validity of these arguments, and promised to do their utmost to supply the NATO countries with atomic weapons.

West Germany is included in this commitment; there are no exceptions to it. The newly-launched German army will get the same atomic equipment that is given other NATO allies.

NOTE: It was overlooked at the time, but the concluding communiqué at the Paris conference contains a pointed hint of these promises, as follows: "There was a firm determination by all the member governments to see to it that their forces are equipped with the most modern weapons."

THE RUB—This unannounced plan is the principal reason for the multi-billion dollar increase in the foreign aid budget.

Dulles and Wilson told the allied leaders they will have to bear part of the cost of the atomic armaments that they are seeking. But most of the money will be put up by the U. S.

The U. S. will also contribute most to the building of a new warning system in Europe, that was agreed on at the Paris meeting. This urgently-needed defense facility will cost the U. S. upwards of $100,000,000. Planning on this far-flung communications project is well underway.

In inner White House councils, the problem of persuading Congress to revise the Atomic Energy Act, to authorize supplying the NATO powers with atomic arms, is deemed as much more difficult than obtaining funds for military aid.

The issue is certain to arouse pronounced controversy both in and out of Congress. For that reason, the President and his lieutenants are proceeding with greatest caution, particularly as 1956 is a major election year. None of the congressional leaders of either party has yet been sounded out on the matter.

Primary reason for that is a difference of view among administrative authorities over what to propose to the lawmakers.

SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS, 84-year-old author of "It Happened One Night," "Flaming Youth," and other best-sellers, had a grandfather who actually helped build the Erie Canal. This grandfather also had a friend whose wife in nearby Troy invented the linen collar. He disliked, however, new-fangled railway trains, and didn't hold out much hope of success for a "feller named Eastman" who had invented "some kind of darn fool picture box" up Rochester way.

A Brooklyn, N. Y., police station house had an irate caller who reported that kids persisted in ringing his doorbell and asking if he had any empty boxes. "Any reason they should pick on you?" asked the lieutenant. "None I can think of," said the complainant, "unless it's my occupation." Seems he's an undertaker.

Betrothal of Ida Shaw Announced

"Wake the Town and Tell the People" was the theme for the gay party at the Penthouse Hotel on New Year's Day, which announced the betrothal of Miss Ida C. Shaw and Charles E. Jones. Decorations were in red, white and green, with red streamers emblazoned with the lyrics of the song.

Carrying out the color scheme, Miss Shaw wore a green velvet and lace dress and her niece, Helen Marie Elmquist, wore the same model, in red. Ted Kidwell, singing cowboy, entertained in his melodious fashion, with the guests ad-joining in the festivities.

Guests were Mrs. J. F. Shaw, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Elmquist and daughter of Pasadena, doctors and members of the staff of the Desert Hospital, and friends and business associates of Mr. Jones.

Miss Shaw is with the Desert Hospital where she is a medical secretary, and Mr. Jones is a Pasadena industrialist who is developing the Jones-Mottie Ranch near Tamarisk, and plans to become a desert resident in the near future.

Following a June wedding, the affianced pair plan a honeymoon trip around the world.

Rules for Naming Successor to Varner Listed

Governor Goodwin J. Knight has been notified by Supervisor William Jones, chairman of the Riverside county board of supervisors, of the vacancy on the board due to the untimely death of Supervisor Homer S. Varner.

An appointment is to be made by the Governor to fill the vacancy in the fourth district, until such time as a new supervisor is elected. This could be in June of this year, when the primary election takes place, provided any one candidate received more votes than those of all other candidates combined. Should this fail to happen, the two candidates receiving the greatest number of votes would have a run-off election in November.

In the first case, the elected supervisor would replace the appointee following the general election in November. In either case, the term of office would expire the first Monday in January, 1959, the date on which Supervisor Varner's term was due to expire.

It is probable that anyone accepting the appointment by Governor Knight would desire to continue and would become a candidate for the office in June.

Wolf! Wolf!

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Ted Shreve knows there are wolves—the four-legged kind—in this area. Driving home from work recently his car headlights picked up a wolf running down the middle of the highway. Shreve ran the varmint down with his auto. He says he has seen three other wolves running together.

The kangaroo family has more than 50 members, says the National Geographic Society. Some are called by other names—wallaroo, wallaby, euro, and pademelon. They range from the foot-long musky-rat kangaroo to seven-foot red and great grays.

TERRY RAY, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, and his wife, Helen, are pictured as they landed at Palm Springs airport over the weekend, after a three week combination vacation and business trip to Cuernavaca and Mexico City.

Ray recently handled and closed the purchase by the Compania Mexicana de Aviacion of seven miles of beach frontage and a large adjacent acreage of Marino Vallarta. The transaction is reported to have approximated $10,000,000.

Trio Bound Over for Trial on Charges of Theft Here

Three men who previously admitted guilt in separate felonies during arraignment in Palm Springs faced preliminary hearings in Judge Hilton McCabe's Indio Superior Court yesterday, and were bound over to hearings January 20.

The two men were charged with theft of copper wire in the Palm Springs and Banning area, and pleaded guilty to the charges. They will each await probation department reports, and stand up for sentence at that time.

Robert Cecil Jones, a 23-year-old Cabazon laborer, was charged with two counts of petty theft while on probation for a similar charge.

John Franklin Guin, a 21-year Palm Springs resident, was charged with grand theft. Each man admitted involvement in wire thefts, stolen while they were together and individually through the past three months, and pleaded guilty during arraignment proceedings at Palm Springs Municipal District Court.

The other man, Albert Aguilar, a 28-year-old Palm Springs busboy, pleaded guilty to a charge of rape during arraignment at Judge Theriault's court here, and faced Superior court yesterday at Indio where his case was continued.

At Aguilar's request for the purpose of obtaining an attorney, Judge McCabe set the next hearing date at January 20. He is charged with entering the room of a local hotel about three weeks ago and assaulting a woman guest.

Knitting, Crocheting Said Real Relaxation

ORONO, Me. (AP)—Knit or crochet if you want really to relax.

That's the advice of Harry Smith, 76-year-old retired farmer, who has been knitting for 70 years. Smith believes that knitting and crocheting offer relaxation to both mind and body and are beneficial to health.

Lately he knitted sweaters as Christmas presents for his five great-grandchildren.

REALTY BOARD NEWS

By EARL R. OBERN
Real Estate Editor

(Editor's Note: Today is the inauguration of a column which will be devoted exclusively to news of real estate activity and development of our desert area, with the cooperation of the Realtors. It will be the policy of this column to print the facts and stories so all may know the rapid progress being made in this great Desert empire.)

"Business will continue its upsurge in the United States for 1956. Increased wages and spiraling prices will make for active buying during the coming year." That was the prediction made by Terry Ray, president of the Palm Springs Realty Board upon his return from a three weeks trip to Mexico.

"With the tremendous growth in California caused by an annual influx of 400,000 families, mostly to Southern California, together with an increased birth rate, the great movement of population expanding from the Los Angeles area will push ever increasing development into our Desert valley," Ray said.

"This will be at a greater rate of growth than we can even now dream of. We, here in the desert, with a market of six million at our front door, can look forward to a more rapid expansion than ever before from Palm Springs to the Salton Sea.

"On my trip to Mexico I talked with leading bankers, industrialists and professional men and found them bullish for the future. They expect the biggest tourist season in history based upon continued prosperity in the United States. Large corporations are locating plants in Mexico because they expect a domestic expanding economy here in our country."

AT THE REGULAR monthly breakfast meeting of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board at the Ranch Club Thursday morning the speaker will be Dr. C. E. Smith, director of the Desert Museum. His subject will be "How Mt. San Jacinto affects the climatic conditions of this area and makes it the outstanding desert resort in the world."

Philip L. Boy, president of Deep Canyon Ranch Properties, Inc., announces that a new unit is now subdivided, road completed and approval for public offering received from the State Real Estate Commission. This unit contains eleven homesites which are located across from Shadow Mountain Club properties on Old Prospector Trail. A landscaping program for beautification of the entrance is to be completed soon.

An array of noted personalities were among those recently purchasing homes in Palm Springs. Included in the $250,000 of sales since October 1955 by Lew Levy, associate of Reid-Wade Realtors, are Van Johnson, motion picture star; Cecil Paul Jones, M.D., now a permanent resident; Gil Dono, screen writer and Frank Sale, president of Aluminus Co. Lease we've consummated with Stewart Granger, motion picture star and Irving Cummings, well known producer.

CULVER NICHOLS, Realtor, reports the following recent sales from his office: Al E. Hoover, associated with Culver Nichols for many years reports the sale of Section 3, a square mile just east of Palm Springs, with rail and highway frontage to McCallen Realty Syndicate of Huntington Beach, Calif.

Commander John Bernet sold the Chase Ranch Home to Neil Jamison of Smoke Tree Ranch and Washington, Dick Edwards handled a nice trade on a date ranch for Laura and Eileen Cary and the Rod Burnhams, besides selling the Arthur Binswanger house and the William May home.

Two new additions to the Culver Nichols sales organization are Gordon Rankin, formerly with Adolph Israel and Joe de Frances, formerly with Walter G. Beck.

Real Life Joe Friday Has His Troubles

MUSKOGON, Mich. (AP)—What's it like when your name is Joe Friday?

"It can be pretty annoying at times," said Muskogon's Joe Friday. "You get calls at all hours of the day and night from jokers. 'Sometimes the calls are a nuisance but other times they're pretty funny. Having that name sure creates a lot of conversation though.'"

Friday, who bears no resemblance to the poker-faced TV detective character of the same name, is a dehydration oven operator.

Seal Donation Appeal Listed

With returns still coming in at the rate of $200 per day the Christmas Seal Campaign is still $8,000 short of its projected goal, according to Mrs. Lauritz Hansen, chairman, who reported today that the campaign passed the $30,000 mark at the weekend.

"Two way round envelopes are being mailed this week from campaign headquarters to $2,000 people who forgot us in the holiday rush," she said, indicating that the usual response between the year's end and the close of the campaign would bring in six of the eight thousand still needed.

"We hope our friends who have not yet found time to reply to their Seal Sale letters will put forth an extra effort to help us reach our goal," she said.

It was pointed out that public demand for free X-ray and other Christmas Seal service had increased 25 percent in recent months, a need which can only be met by a 10 percent increase in Seal Sale income.

"With TB infection rates and death rates higher in this county than in California and the rest of the nation, we should not relax, but rather intensify our efforts," she said.

Sign Explains Cause of Litter

TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP)—A home owner here got sick and tired of papers, cardboard and trash blowing onto his property from a nearby shopping plaza.

Peter Rothwell claimed that two years of pleading with the town board failed to bring any correction, so he decided to try to embarrass the board and the stores into action. He posted a sign on his lawn that read:

"Lack of enforcement of town ordinances is responsible for this littered condition."

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — College basketball has more politicians than Tammany Hall and a hard core of defense-minded, possession-play coaches can be expected today to block a new attempt to appropriate the professional 24-second rule for the collegiate game.

Yale's Howard Hobson spearheaded the new push when he asserted that the "pro rule has been a fine thing." It's adoption will be the big issues at this year's rules meeting, he admitted, and it "has a good chance."

All of which probably is wishful thinking.

The answer is that there are two schisms in coaching. Call it the defense-minded against the offense-minded or call it the "country" coaches against the "big city" coaches who have seen the success of the pro brand of play and ache to copy it.

THERE IS NO ATTEMPT by the city boys to "sucker" the fellows from the hinterlands. But the rural tutors look at it that way and there seems some basis for the accusation that they are guilty of a certain narrowness when they frown on anything born of professional ingenuity as a taint to the purity of their game.

Thus they banded together, under the banner of such defense-minded Hank Iba of Oklahoma A&M, and killed the adoption of the 24-second rule last year. And they'll probably do it again.

Hobson, sounding the progressive slogan that the 24-second time limit on possession would provide a faster game and help kill stalling, has another suggestion which is so novel that it probably won't even get a hearing.

He would like to see three points given for a basket scored from outside 24 feet.

Only one-ninth of the total scoring is done from outside that area," he explains. "Even if we install the 24-second rule, the zone still could be used unless we give a premium on long shots and make the defense come out of the zone to stop them."

HOBSON'S THEORY is that in baseball, as example, the home run pays off more than just the ordinary hit.

"Making a long field goal worth three points would kill the deadening zone defenses," he insists. "It would make for a faster game, make the defense come out and, as result, allow more space for drive-in shots."

Ken Norton, a member of the Rules Committee, agrees with Hobson that "we'll eventually have to come to a time limit of some sort." But Norton's theory is that the collegians, not having the over-all competitive equality of professional teams, may need as much as a minute to get off their shots.

"Twenty-four seconds is plenty long enough," Hobson contends. "And this year the rule has a real chance."

But don't bet on it.

Traffic Judge to Get Second Test Next Saturday

Clifford Mooers' Traffic Judge, the country's top-ranking three-year-old last season behind Nashua and Swaps, is entered in the $25,000 San Fernando Stakes next Saturday to make his second start of the meeting at Santa Anita. The fixture for four-year-olds leading up to the estimated $170,000 Santa Anita Maturity on Jan. 28 will be on the double bill with the $20,000 El Encino at 1 1/4 miles on the hillside-infield turf course.

Traffic Judge with top jockey Eddie Arcaro is expected to make a better showing in the televised San Fernando over KNXT (2) and the CBS Coast network from 4 to 4:30 p.m., than he did in the seven-furlong Malibu Sequet when he hit the rail in the stretch and was thrown off stride.

THE PROMINENT COLT will be again meeting Honey Alibi, Hillery, Beau Busher and Trackmaster, who finished ahead of him on that occasion. Twenty-one were nominated for the San Fernando.

It will be the last serious test for the Maturity for Traffic Judge, that will have another top contender in Brookmeade Stable's Sailor, which will be flown in from the east.

The Encino, an optional claimer, promises to develop new grass running prospects for the $100,000-added San Juan Capistrano on March 10. It will also draw some eligibles for the $100,000-guaranteed-to-winner Santa Anita Handicap on Feb. 25.

DURING THE THIRD WEEK, on the regular schedule of racing from Tuesday through Saturday, Santa Anita will stage the $15,000 Santa Ynez Stakes tomorrow and rich overnight features on the other days.

Indians Meet Broncos Tonight

INDIAN GUARD Mickey Pellum heads in for a lay-up as he hedges past San Jacinto's Wayne Wilson, hidden, and jumps past the guarding of San Jacinto center Jim Quast to hook one-in last Friday night. Pellum and his mates will meet Banning there tonight for the second Riverside County League game, and are favored to beat the Broncos. In spite of Charley Jordan's 30 points last Friday, Palm Springs lost, 65-60.

Second Game in RCL Race at Banning

Opponents Rated as Strongest Defensive Quintet in League

Palm Springs Indians play their second game of the 1956 Riverside County League basketball season tonight when they travel to Banning to take on the hot and cold Bronco cagers. In last Friday night's action, the Indians were edged out by San Jacinto, 65-60, in a very thrilling contest, while Banning was being upset by the Elsinore quintet, 24-20.

Palm Springs will be paced by their high scoring center, Charlie Jordan, who bucketed 30 points in the Indians last outing against the powerful Tigers. Jordan's all out effort puts him at the top of the pack in the dog fight for R. C. L. high scoring honors.

THE ONLY NOTICEABLE weakness that Palm Springs displayed against the Tigers was the defensive playing of Mickey Pellum. Pellum, guarding the usually low scoring Gary De Sota, was caught napping several times and before the evening was over had allowed his man to chalk up 15 points. Though Pellum scored 17 himself, this hurt the Indian chances for victory a great deal.

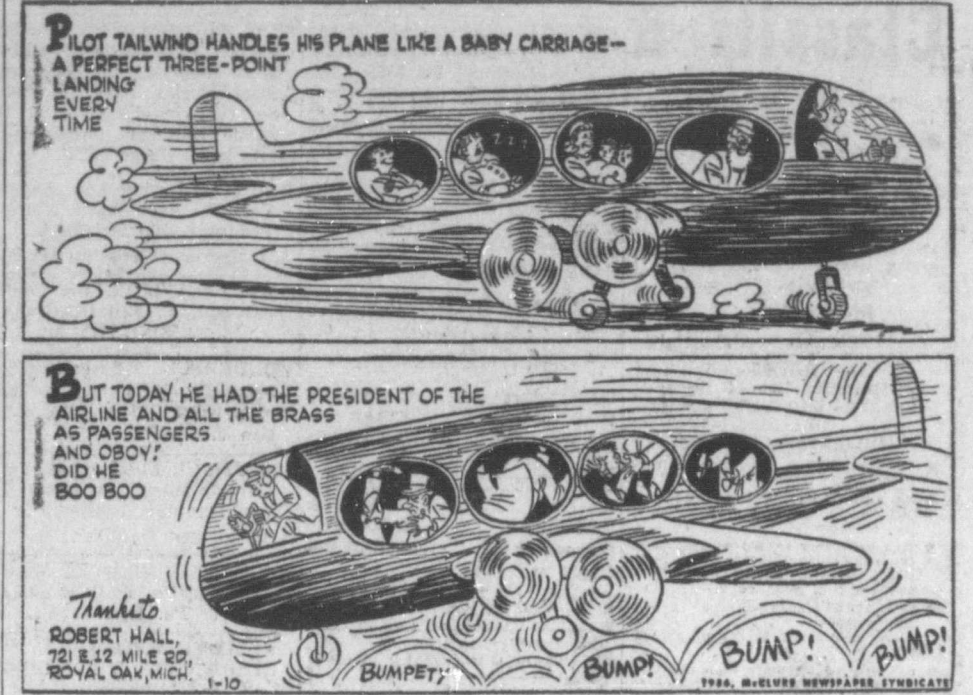

The local hoopsters will face what is supposed to be the strongest defense in the league when they tangle with the hustling Banning five. The Broncos, however, employ the same defense as San Jacinto and Palm Springs didn't seem to have much difficulty scoring against them, as they racked up 60 points.

THE BIG QUESTION mark in tonight's tilt will be whether or not the tight Banning defense can contain Jordan. If he plays the same exploding type of game that he played in last week's league opener, the Broncos have their work cut out for them. If, on the other hand, they manage to hold him to a respectable total, the game could go either way.

Coach Ralph Watt is expected to stick to the same line up that started the ball game. That is: guards, Mickey Pellum and Vic Reyes; forwards, Sam Jones and

San Bernardino Loses Twice to La Jolla Poloists

San Bernardino, the Pacific Coast 9-goal champions, went down to defeat two days in a row when they played the La Jolla polo team at the Polo Grounds last weekend, according to Guy Campbell, Polo Grounds operator.

Saturday's score was close, 8-7, while the champions took a drubbing Sunday, 12-5.

Members of the winning team were Gale Meddickott, Willis Allen, and Bob Wintringer. They defeated a team comprised of Blaine Stephenson, Shorty Funkhouser, and Monty Montgomery.

O. B. Crawford; and center, Charlie Jordan.

THE PALM SPRINGS B team is also favored to win, as they are playing a Banning aggregation that has failed to taste victory this season. Back in the starting line up for this game is Eddie Tarr, who missed the Indians one sided loss to San Jacinto. His return should give the papposes a better scoring punch and much more rebounding.

Starting tonight for the Indian B team will be: guards, Eddie Tarr and Curtis Roberts; forwards, Don Burke and Charles Brown; and center, Gary Waters.

Game time for the Varsity contest is seven, while the B's are scheduled to get under way at six.

Mangrum Terms Victory 'Most Satisfying' of Career

LOS ANGELES — With the "most satisfying" victory of his long and brilliant career tucked under his belt, lanky Lloyd Mangrum looked forward today to a full campaign on the touring pro circuit — health permitting.

Mangrum headed north for Pebble Beach and the Ring Crosby clambake, with $6,000 in his pocket after winning the $30,000 Los Angeles Open Monday.

Leading from wire-to-wire, Mangrum beat the star packed field by three strokes. It was his fourth victory in this 30-year-old event. "It was my most satisfying win," he said later. "Even more so than winning the National Open. After all, I've been on the shelf for more than a year with sickness and injuries and I didn't know for sure if I would be able to play competitive golf again. That's why it is so satisfying."

Mangrum took 272 strokes for the 72 holes — 12 strokes under par for the distance. He finished three strokes ahead of a fast-closing Jerry Barber; and four ahead of Tommy Bolt.

Cal Rooters, Not Bears to Blame for Basketball Row

LOS ANGELES — Trojan Coach Forrest Twogood says there was no animosity between the Southern California basketball team and the California Bears during last weekend's two-game series.

Twogood told the Southern California Basketball Writers and Sportscasters Assn. Monday that a disturbance last Saturday night was caused by the fans in the Bear gymnasium.

The Trojans won the second game of the series by a forfeit after a referee was hit in the eye twice by coins thrown from the audience. The Trojans were ahead, 77-64, when the game was stopped. "There is no animosity between the two teams and there never has been," Twogood said. "The action of the crowd is an administrative problem."

Coach Johnny Wooden of UCLA who viewed the game on television, said he saw nothing out of the ordinary in the playing of the game. But he added that the coin throwing was a "black eye" to college basketball.

Dons Head UP Basketball Poll for Sixth Week

NEW YORK — San Francisco remained the nation's No. 1 college basketball team for the sixth straight week today, but the United Press ratings had a distinct southern accent with five Dixie schools in the top 10.

Vanderbilt and Duke moved up among the leading 10 teams in a tie for eighth place, joining North Carolina State, Kentucky and North Carolina as the South's representatives in the select group.

Dayton, which like San Francisco is undefeated in 11 games this season, gained a few points on the top-ranked Dons as it clung to the No. 2 ranking. Indiana was another newcomer among the top 10 teams in the weekly ratings of the 35 leading coaches who make up the United Press board.

San Francisco, which now has won 37 consecutive games and is shooting for a new all-time major college high of 40, was the top choice of 30 coaches this week. The Dons also received three second-place votes and two for third place, giving them 343 out of a possible total of 350 points.

The United Press college basketball rating with first-place votes and won-lost records through Jan. 7:

Team	Points
1. San Francisco 20 11-0	243
2. Dayton 3 11-0	206
3. North Caro. State 11-1	225
4. Kentucky 7-2	140
5. Illinois 7-1	130
6. Indiana 8-1	75
7. Southern Methodist 12-2	73
8. Vanderbilt 8-2	60
9. Duke 9-2	60
10. North Carolina 8-2	51

Second 10 teams: 11. Holy Cross, 48; 12. Utah, 45; 13. Louisville, 44; 14. Tennessee, 40; 15. Ohio State, 35; 16. Iowa State, 30; 17. UCLA, 28; 18. St. Louis and Marquette, 19 each; 20. Michigan State, 17.

SFU Seeks 38th Straight Victory

SAN FRANCISCO — The University of San Francisco Dons go after their 38th straight basketball victory tonight — just one game short of the all-time mark for a major college.

Although the nation's No. 1 team is expected to have little trouble with its opponent, Santa Clara, the Dons got bad news from within their own ranks.

Yesterday Bill Mallen, 6-foot, 3 1/2 inch, 230-pound alternate forward, announced that he decided to quit the squad so he could devote more time to studies.

175 Horses Change Hands for $319,800

POMONA — A total of 175 horses changed hands for a sum of $319,800 Monday at the fourth annual midwinter sale of the California Thoroughbred Breeders Assn. at the Los Angeles County Fair Grounds.

The average paid per horse was $1,827.

Byblos, a French importation consigned by Mr. and Mrs. John de Bloid Wack brought $22,000.

King's Abbey, the only stallion in the mixed sales, consigned by W. W. Naylor, went to a syndicate headed by Steve Hammond, Chino, for $17,000.

Shadow Mountain Poloists Split Weekend Matches

JIM TATUM, who lead Maryland University to a 75-154 record in the nine years he was football coach there, will assume his duties as coach of the North Carolina U. football team next month. He resigned last week to take over the coaching job at NCU, his Alma Mater.

Shadow Mountain Polo Club played Saturday and Sunday with a team led by Tony Veen of Beverly Hills, and split the victories. Saturday's game was won by the local team with a one net goal edge, and Sunday's by the visitors with a seven net goal margin.

The Shadow Mountain team required the services of an outsider both days because one of their regular members, Lloyd Phillips, was confined to the sickbed with flu. Besides regulars Ted Pierce and Lisle Nixon, Bill Mayberry, of Los Angeles and Yuma, now stationed in the Air Force in the Arizona border town, comprised the Shadow Mountain team.

The visiting team was made up of Veen, an international high goal player of considerable reputation, Larry Funkhouser, and Willie Tevis and Bill Schultz. Tevis played with Veen and Funkhouser, who is from San Bernardino, Saturday. Schultz, from Whittier, played in Tevis' spot Sunday, when the San Francisco man was forced to favor a cold in his back.

Sunday a special added feature was presented when children, trained by Nixon, played in a two chukka match in full polo regalia. The winning team, who scored a one net goal victory, was made up of Steve Pierce, Billy Bradley, and Bobby Taylor.

The losers were Mike Lester, Tommy Bradley, and Eugene Nelsner, with Suzie Hinkle substituting.

Sports Car Club to Take in Races

Members of the Palm Springs Sport Car Club and their guests are invited to meet Sunday at Howard Manor prior to driving to Torrey Pines near La Jolla to see the races, according to an invitation issued by Del Davitt, president, and Anna Wallace, publicity chairman.

Those interested in travelling to the sport car races, which will have run one day and featuring finals Sunday, should be ready to leave Howard Manor, the club's regular meeting place, by 8:30 early in the morning.

Dulles to Meet Nehru in March

NEW DELHI (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will visit New Delhi in March for personal talks with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, informed sources said today.

The sources said Dulles wants to meet Nehru and discuss many questions of importance, but further details were not known.

Dulles recently was heavily criticized in the Indian press for allegedly supporting Portuguese "colonialism" on the Indian subcontinent.

The criticism stemmed from a joint statement issued by Dulles and Portuguese Foreign Minister Dr. Paulo Cunha in Washington referring to the Portuguese possession of Goa as a "province."

Indian newspapers filled their editorial columns for days with attacks on Dulles and said his use of the term "province" backed Portuguese claims to Goa.

Board Adopts Resolution Mourning Death of Varner

Riverside county board of supervisors met Monday morning only long enough to express their feeling of the great loss in the sudden passing of Supervisor Homer S. Varner of Indio by adoption of a resolution. They immediately adjourned to 9 a.m. Wednesday, January 11.

The resolution which well expressed the sentiments of all who have had the honor of working with the supervisor of the fourth district, read as follows:

"WHEREAS, this Board is shocked and grieved to learn of the untimely death of Homer S. Varner, one of its members, on January 6, 1956, and

"WHEREAS, he has faithfully served the County of Riverside as supervisor for the fourth district for the past five years, during which time he has given generously and unselfishly of his time, ability and effort in the public service of the people among whom he was proud to live, and has participated in countless activities of civic and governmental organization to an extent far beyond the call of duty, and

"WHEREAS, the public life of Supervisor Varner has been marked by sound judgment, a harmonious disposition and fair minded approach to the problems of not only his constituents, but all of the people of the county, and

"WHEREAS, the attitude and conduct of this public servant should serve as a commendable example to his fellow citizens who have lost a true friend in his passing; and, therefore,

"BE IT RESOLVED, by the board of supervisors of the County of Riverside, State of California, in regular session assembled this 9th day of January, 1956, that this board does hereby express its deep regret and profound sorrow in the loss of Homer S. Varner and does hereby extend to his family its heartfelt sympathy and sincere condolences; and

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this Board and a copy sent to the members of his family."

Free Bus Rides with Music and Apples Delights Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Scores of Seattle bus riders hit the jackpot today with a free ride, special music, free newspapers and magazines, free flowers and a shiny Washington State apple.

Those who boarded the special "on the house" bus this morning at 6 a.m. were greeted by two glamorous stars of the Ice Capades now playing an engagement in Seattle.

THEY WERE HANDED a free copy of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, walked past the fare box without paying one cent and rode to work munching on a juicy free Washington State apple.

Disc jockeys from five Seattle radio stations played special music over a radio installed in the bus by station KING.

Gardenias were pinned on the ladies and carnations were handed out to all men passengers. Copies of the magazine, TV Guide, were handed to all who boarded the bus.

PASSENGERS STEPPING aboard the "free" bus broke into grins and had a great time riding to work.

The free bus will be in regular operation from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily over one of the regular routes.

The program is "geared to stimulate transit riding" according to the Seattle Transit System which recently bought 100 new "air ride" buses at a cost of $2,100,000.

Red Cross Funds Drained by Nation's Flood Disasters

NEW YORK (AP)—The chairman of the American Red Cross said today recent floods in the West and Northeast have all but drained the organization's disaster-aid funds.

E. Roland Harriman said the Red Cross disaster-aid fund is down to only $1,250,000 on the average of the Spring "disaster season."

Harriman said the Red Cross has spent 18½ million dollars in assistance to victims of two hurricane floods in the Northeast and other disasters since August, which is usually a calm season. The organization now is spending eight million dollars to aid close to 10,000 families who were victims of the Christmas floods in California and Oregon.

He called the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors to an emergency meeting in New York Thursday to study extraordinary disaster conditions and decide how to meet the crisis.

"Any major disaster this Spring will find the Red Cross without reserves to do its job," Harriman said. "With our commitments in the Western states we will have only $1,250,000 in the disaster reserve available for disaster in the heaviest months which lie ahead."

Harriman indicated there would be no special appeal for public subscriptions in advance of the regular March campaign for funds.
